The first Annual Report of the people titled “Secondary Material” will feature:
A critical look back at our first year of operations, with show reviews by Tim Bartel, Sanie Irsay, Vivien Kämpf, Lisa Lagova and Miglė Lukoševičiūtė.

A making sense of our exhibition space in a survey by Anton Stuckardt.

An audit of earnings and investments in a financial report by Nuno Beijinho.

The Annual Report #1 is edited by Jonathan Blaschke and designed with Jan Schmidt Bist, corrections by Johanna Schäfer.

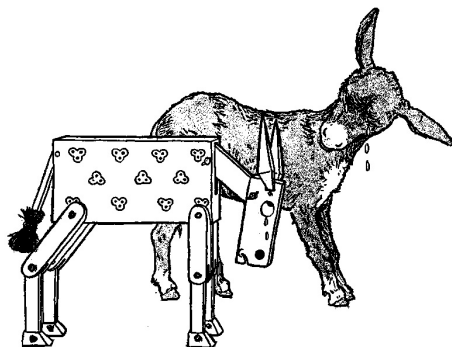

This Launch on the 16th of May will be celebrated with a number of readings of texts from the report:
Miglė Lukoševičiūtė: My Contribution (as requested);
Tim Bartel: I Think There’s Something You Should Know (May 28, 2025);
Lisa Lagova: Field Trip;
Nuno Beijinho: Strategic and Financial Report for the year ended 30 September 2025

The people will additionally be presenting an exhibition on the blue and white tiled floor of our hosts BarGum during the Antwerp Art Week. We are leaving our exhibition space in Arnhem for the first time, well packed up in a crate.

This exhibition, features two works by Miglė Lukoševičiūtė, a writer and graphic designer concerned with melodrama.

the people announces the aim of the press release was never to be completely transparent about what’s actually going on.

For this exhibition, it’s better you stop looking for the double floor and remember that the augmentation of reality surely began with romance.
